PUBLIC MEETING of the QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY in IRELAND, held in St. Patrick's Hall, Dublin Castle, on the 13th October, 1876.

I.
Public
Meeting.

AFTER the close of the Examinations of the year 1876, a public meeting of the Queen's University was held in Dublin Castle on the 13th October, 1876, for conferring degrees, diplomas, and prizes.

A large number of distinguished persons having taken their places in the Examination Hall, His Grace the Duke of Leinster, Chancellor of the University, the Senate, the Professors and Examiners, and the Candidates, entered it in procession.

HIS GRACE THE DUKE OF LEINSTER, Chancellor of the University, opened the meeting with the following address:—

We are assembled this day to confer upon the successful competitors the several degrees and other distinctions which they have won in the examinations in the Queen's University. In the printed lists the names are also given of the candidates who satisfied the University examiners in January and in June. In the Faculty of Arts, 8 candidates have presented themselves for the degree of Master in Arts, and have all been deemed worthy of University honors. Fifty-eight candidates presented themselves for the degree of Bachelor in Arts, of whom 50 have satisfied the University examiners, and among these 18 have been considered deserving of University distinctions. Seventy others presented themselves at the first University examination in arts, and of these 40 have passed—10 of them with honors. In the Faculty of Law four Bachelors in Arts presented themselves for the degree of Bachelor in Laws, and of these two are reported by the examiners as having answered with distinction, and a third as having satisfied them. An ad eundem degree of Bachelor in Laws will be conferred to-day upon another graduate in Arts of this University, who pursued his legal studies in the University of Cambridge with distinction. In the Faculty of Medicine 86 candidates have sought the degree of Doctor in Medicine, and of these 53 have satisfied our examiners; 47 out of 76 candidates have passed for the degree of Master in Surgery, and 27 out of 55 have been deemed qualified for the separate diploma which the University grants in Midwifery. 115 candidates presented themselves at our second University examination in medicine, of whom 65 have come up to the standard required by the examiners; while 112 out of 186 candidates have been successful at our first University examination in this faculty. The Senate has passed a special grace to confer the honorary degree of Doctor in Medicine upon Fleet-Surgeon Eustace, of the Royal Navy, who highly distinguished himself in his care of the troops placed under his charge after the Ashantee war. In the department of civil engineering, seven candidates presented themselves for an engineering degree, of whom all answered satisfactorily, and 15 presented themselves at the first University examination in that faculty, of whom 8 have passed. Within the last year her Majesty's Government have taken into their consideration the requirements of the Queen's University. Their investigation has not yet concluded, but they have already taken two steps which are calculated to increase the efficiency of our colleges. Some years ago the sum placed at the disposal of each of our colleges for meeting certain expenses, including the supply of the college library, and of the scientific collections, was reduced from £1,600 to £1,000. The diminished sum was found inadequate, and in the present year Parliament has consented to restore it to its original amount. The conditions, too, upon which infirm or aged professors were admitted to superannuation were such that the class fees paid to them were not taken into account in computing the amount of their retiring allowances. The Treasury, at the request of Sir Michael Beach, has made arrangements which will enable it in future to take these class fees into account without infringing the rules by which it is guided, thus somewhat increasing the allowance which can be made to a retiring professor. I am happy to observe from returns which have been placed in my hands that several graduates of the Queen's University have been, within the year, placed in important scholastic positions. Mr. John M'Kane, a Master in Arts of the University, has been appointed Professor of English Law in Queen's College, Belfast. Dr. Charles, a Master in Arts and Graduate in Medicine of the University, has been appointed Professor of Anatomy in Queen's College, Cork; while Mr. Kirkpatrick, Mr. Maybin, and Mr. Chambers, other graduates of the University, have been appointed Head Masters respectively of Lurgan Endowed School, of the Burgh School at Kirkcaldy, and of the Grammar School at Perth. Mr. Hynes, a Master in Arts of the University, has won, by competition, another educational appointment—that of Inspector of National Schools in Ireland. At the open competition for the British Consular Service in the East, which was held last January, Mr. J. W. M'Carthy and Mr. John Newell Jordan, both of Queen's College, Cork, obtained respectively the first and second places. Three students of the University—Mr. Roche, Mr. Boyle, and Mr. Dorman—obtained places in the Indian Engineering Service, while ten others won appointments in the Indian Medical Service or at the competitions for the Army and Navy Medical Services. At the competition for the Indian Medical Service, the first place was taken by Dr. James Moorhead, a graduate in Arts and Medicine of this University (applause).
